Mack

Mack's deliveries in May totaled 714 vehicles, down 17% compared with the year-earlier period. Compared to April this year the deliveries decreased by 12 %.

Customer response to, and interest in, the EPA2010 trucks being offered by Mack and Volvo Trucks North America continues to be very positive. With large competitor inventories of pre-EPA10 engines finally drawn down, and a steadily growing acceptance for the well proven Volvo Group SCR technology in the market, the competitive landscape is increasingly favorable for the Group's two North American heavy-duty truck brands moving forward.
