LVO Donates Powered Air-Purifying Respirator St. Luke's University Health Network

Lehigh Valley Operations (LVO) continues to support healthcare efforts in our local community through in-kind donations of much-needed personal protective equipment (PPE) items given to our local healthcare providers.

High-end, powered air-purifying respirators (PAPR) are currently in short supply for healthcare providers. The LVO manufacturing facility maintains a few PAPR's primarily used by employees when working in the paint booths. The LVO facility was able to donate a 3M™ Versaflo TR-600 PAPR to St. Luke's University Health Network in Bethlehem, Pa.

LVO has also recently donated goggles, face shields, safety glasses and other PPE items currently in short supply to St. Luke's and other local healthcare providers.

We Are Mack. We Are Safety. We Are People.
